"I wanted to take the opportunity to thank you for the Stand-Up Presentation Skills Seminars you delivered for our Sony Electronics (SEL) Lunchtime Learning series. Your lectures were cutting edge -- delivering advanced communication skills training through an entertainment-based medium that was both attention-grabbing and focused on our SEL's specific business needs. My department has received excellent feedback from employees and Sony Human Resources senior management. The seminar evaluations we received after each event spoke loud and clear -- It's a hit!

I am ecstatic that we will be fortunate enough to have you back to repeat your Standup Presentation Skills seminar and also to deliver your follow-up course, Advanced Riffing.

As a company of firsts, Sony seeks out innovation in products, training and service. It is for this reason that your unique training methods best suit our corporate mission.

Sony looks forward to continuing this very successful relationship."

"If you are currently debating whether or not to make Tim's class part of your next training, let me help you with the decision. Do it!! His methodology gives even the most seasoned sales rep real-world techniques to managing client interactions. I am convinced the confidence I got out of learning Tim's system led to more closed deals. Oh, and did I mention the training was actually fun."

"The lessons that I've learned and continue to learn by work with Tim Davis are invaluable. His cognitive behavioralism method is truly the only program that I've encountered to positively impact my life on such a profound level. The insight I've gained in such a short period of time has assisted me in achieving goals that I've struggled with for years. Tim's work has resulted in my continual personal and professional success. I anticipate exploring other dimensions of my character through Tim's program. The bottom line is that Tim's program works. You are empowered to discover you. Tim gives you every tool available for you to conquer such an exciting and noble goal under his trusting guidance."

"Your talk affected all of us at our Toastmaster meeting. It gave me some profound insight I did not have before. Making people laugh is great, but I think you may have an even greater calling. You can help people understand that their worth is not performance-based. Everyone needs to know that. You have instant connectability because of your talent and your story. Use that to reach all of us out there. Thank you so much for sharing your talents, experiences and insight with us."

"On behalf of Soroptimist International of Phoenix, I write to thank you for stepping into the breach on extremely short notice and treating our members to an entertaining and informative program. Several of our members mentioned how much they enjoyed your program, and one member of the audience said it was the best program he had heard all year. Not only did we appreciate your insights and your humor, we respect and admire your commitment to making a real difference in the world around you. I have already put to good use some of the insights you provided. I would unhesitatingly recommend you to anyone seeking a dynamic, entertaining and effective speaker."

"Applause -- Applause -- Applause!!! Another bravo appearance on such a perfect topics, "Emotions in the Workplace." With some many workers today who are fried, frazzled, harried, pressure-cooked, etc., by the demands of downsizing, restructuring, mergers, and acquisitions, WorkTalk® is certainly grateful to your views on such a timely topic. Your insights on how to deal with this "EQ" (Emotional Quotient) factor were very helpful... and much needed."
